

O'GORMAN WANTED FOR STATE LEADER BY INDEPENDENTS

New Democratic Organization Prepares for Action Leading to Progressive Candidate.

An independent Democratic movement in this State, to be known as the Empire State Democracy, with the object of forcing the selection of Senator O'Gorman as State leader and securing the nomination of a progressive Democrat for Governor, has been projected by the New York State Wilson Conference, the organization that did so much before the National Convention to work up sentiment for the New Jersey Governor in the upper tiers of counties.

At a meeting held in this city the other day plans were proposed for a continuation of the work done prior to the convention, and it was said, at the same time, that the movement could rely upon the sympathy of both Gov. Wilson and Senator O'Gorman.

The movement is frankly anti-Tammany. The men behind it—men like State Senator Franklin D. Roosevelt, George Haven Putnam, E. R. L. Gould, ex-Union Service Commissioner Bassett and Thomas M. Osborn—are firmly convinced that if the party is to get all the benefit it should get from Wilson's nomination it must divorce itself utterly from Tammany Hall and Charles F. Murphy.

It is claimed by the progressive Democrats, as they call themselves, that Murphy's support of Wilson will be lukewarm at the best, and that his sole object in the State campaign will be to bring about the re-nomination of Dix and a reactionary ticket, hoping to drag it into office at the tail of the big Wilson plurality that even he expects.

They argue that now is the time, with the best and most progressive Presidential candidate Democracy ever had, to break the order of things in the State once and for all, to eliminate Murphy from State politics, at any rate, and to establish a precedent for the nomination of a progressive Democrat for Governor who can be relied upon to keep himself free from any ties with Tammany.

WANT MURPHY TO ACCEPT NEW ORDER.

They do not want to smash the party, they assert. That is farthest from their thoughts. Their scheme is rather to bring such pressure to bear from within the party as to compel Murphy and the other leaders, who favor old-time methods and reactionary policies, to accept the new order of things, whether they want to or not. And they claim that this can be done.

Ever since the early sessions of the Baltimore convention it has been asserted that Murphy has resented O'Gorman's independent stand for Wilson. The Tammany leader cloaked this feeling as well as he could, it is declared, when he said that he had gotten himself in the wrong box but he could not hide it altogether, and since the return of the Tammany cohorts he has made no secret of his feelings in discussing things with his friends concerning the man, who, he claims, owes to Tammany his election to the Senate. Senator O'Gorman, knows this, and, moreover, feels that he can gain nothing from alliance with Tammany, while he may gain much by steering an independent course. His aim is not at all adverse to the idea of becoming State leader of the party.

WATER AND FLAME SPURT IN STREET AS MAINS BURST

Gas Pipes Blow Up With a Roar in Twenty-sixth Street.

Thousands of spectators enjoyed a thrilling and unusual spectacle early today when four three-inch water mains, buried by a fire at Twenty-sixth street and Madison avenue, shot their streams fifty feet into the air, mingling them with the flames from four six-inch broken gas mains. The roaring pillars of burning gas and the great fountains of water sparkling in the flames formed a beautiful and stirring picture.

The fire followed four tremendous explosions and a sheet of flame seventy-five feet long that turned Twenty-sixth street into a veritable inferno. The heat was so great the crowds could not approach within two blocks.

M. & L. Hess, contractors, of No. 880 Broadway, are excavating for a twenty-story loft building at the Madison avenue corner. The settling of the street caused the gas mains to give at the joints. When the watchman opened the firebox of the big stationary engine standing in the street to work the excavating drills the escaped gas ignited.

At once the four mains blew up, while the old engine and the whole of the plank walk for half a block down Twenty-sixth street were thrown into the air. The flames could be seen for miles, while the entire downtown section of the city heard the explosion. Capt. Hangerman of the East Twenty-second street police station, called out his reserves.

They found Joseph Chickay, a watchman, forty-four, of No. 84 Sullivan street, almost unconscious. They dragged him out and turned him over to Dr. Anderson of Bellevue Hospital, who removed him to that institution. His condition is serious.

The fire had raged for more than three hours when, about 1 o'clock, after working more than two hours digging a hole ten feet in depth, the gasmen found the main and shut off the gas. This instantly extinguished the blaze, but all the cellars nearby, were flooded and there was fifteen feet of water in the excavation.

KAISER AS A MAN OF GAIN.

Berlin Magazine Attacks Him for Defeat of Shipping Project.

Copyright, 1912, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World.) (Special Cable Dispatch to The Evening World.) LONDON, July 10.—The Berlin Zeitschrift, a clever fortnightly review, in its current issue contains a strong attack on the Kaiser in connection with the recent failure of the German Dock Company to obtain a concession from the Bundesrat making Bremen a port of departure for emigrant ships. Under the heading "Kaiser and Hamburg Against Prussia," it points out that the Hamburg-American Company opposed the project, and that the Kaiser is a shareholder in the company to the extent of $2,000,000, the plain inference being that the German ruler used his influence in his own interests rather than those of his subjects.
